

United Fund Goal Set At $298,463 For Drive

Increase Of $13,000;
Campaign Set To Start
Week Of Oct. 16th

A goal of $298,463 for the Tri-City Area United Fund campaign in October was set Thursday afternoon during a meeting of the U.F. board of directors at the YMCA. The new goal is $13,000 over last year's quota, but only $3633 more than was actually subscribed in last year's drive. This year's campaign is to start the week of Oct. 16, it was announced by Rev. Colvin Marcum, board president.

Announcement also was made during the board meeting of the appointment of Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades & Labor Council, as the temporary labor representative to the U.F. staff community services director. He will serve until Jan. 1.

For the 17 U.F. agencies, the 1962 allocation is set at $281,593, or 2.9% more than last year's figure of $255,387. The remainder of the goal is $36,870 for administration and campaign expenses. For 1961 the administration and campaign figure was $31,474.

One New Agency
Major changes from last year are the admission of one new agency, Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, the new labor representative post in 1962, increase in Coordinated Youth Services, a 20% raise in the allocation to Madison Teen Town and an increase to USO from $100 to $1000.

Unanimous Acceptance
Col. Jack C. Jeffrey, chairman of the administrative distribution committee which reviewed agency budgets and recommendations, presented the committee report. The board voted unanimously to accept the report and use its final total as the campaign goal.

Local use of the Illinois Children's Home services was explained. The agency lists expenditures at $7500 and the U.F. allotment is $2500.

The 18% decrease in the U.F. allocation results from reduction of the salary of an unfilled staff position. If the position is filled the agency will receive special U.F. funds.

The U.S. increase was justified by the outline of services given Quad-City youth in the armed services by USO units in all parts of the world. Also, Col. Jeffrey noted the use by local servicemen of the St. Louis club.

The committee members, who met with representatives of all agencies seeking allocations, praised the enthusiasm and devotion of the agency leaders and outlined areas in which agency leaders should give more attention. They are plant rental and maintenance efficiency, overlapping of "target" services areas, services from national groups, decrease in reserves and contingency funds and more in individual agencies and statistical standardization.

Consolidated Headquarters
Also recommended was a consolidation of agency headquarters with joint use of auditors, secretaries and stenographers. Speaking on the 15-year integration of organized labor and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Life Preservers Save 3 Men From River Currents

"If it had not been for the life preservers, we wouldn't have made it," Raymond F. Lake Jr., 23, of 2513 Pine street summed up in discussing capsizing of his 15-foot outboard boat shortly after Saturday in the Mississippi River near the site of the Chain of Rocks Bridge and the low water dam currently under construction.

Lake and his brother, George Lake, 20, of 2966 Madison avenue were pulled aboard the tugboat Lew Sims in the middle of the river about two miles south of the existing after being tossed by strong currents through a hazardous area of rocks, cables and markers. Their companion, Gerald Brown, 24, of 2436 Benton street, who had been water skiing, was rescued earlier by two large barges employees who had been eating lunch nearby. All three know how to swim but were prevented by the swift water.

Brown had returned to the boat when the three realized they were near the dangerous dam area. The sking tow line caught on a buoy and the back of the boat went under, causing the boat to capsize. Brown was wearing a lifejacket, George was grasping a lifejacket, and Raymond was clinging to a life preserver. Lake picked up two seat cushions before diving into the water.

"I went back later in the day and, brought the boat home on a trailer after it had been towed to the Missouri shore by the tugboat," the elder Lake related. "We lost towels and the skis and one life preserver, but a pocket of air in the front of the boat kept it from sinking and we located our billfolds and money. Our 40-horsepower engine is locked in gear and there is some paint scraped off the boat, but the repairs should be minor."

GC Tax Payments Near $2 1/2 Million

Tax payments in Granite City totaled nearly a half-million dollars in three days, last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and brought the total to $2,412,039. It was earned today from Collector Frank Sappington.

The collection total now represents nearly half of the $5,410,772 tax bill to be paid for 1960 by Granite City township property owners.

The collection office, located on the second floor at the city hall building, is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 8 a.m. until noon on Saturdays.

Sappington said the collection, last week included payments by a large local mortgage firm and Lions Power Co.

Venice City Tax Voted On Service Occupations

Will Partly Offset
Sales Tax Levied On Purchasing By City

Venice aldermen voted Friday night to add a half-cent-dollar city tax to the new three-cent service occupation tax adopted by the state. The state tax will go into effect Aug. 1 and the Venice portion Sept. 1.

Expressing regret at recommending the action, Mayor John E. Lee said it will partly offset the city's loss resulting from extension of the state sales tax to purchases made by municipal agencies.

The new tax includes services not previously covered by the sales tax. The current sales tax includes a half-cent for the city, and advanced from three to three and a half cents for the state July 1.

The new levy taxes "services" on the cost price of tangible personal property which they purchase or transfer as an incident to their sales of service. The Illinois Department of Revenue has explained to Venice.

Barbers, Cleaners
Property purchased in such instances includes fillings and medicine, by dentists; eyeglasses, by optometrists; stock, tonics and medicine, by veterinarians; hair, tonics and lotions, by barbers and beauticians; collar supports and coat hangers, by laundries and dry cleaners; and sensitized paper, by photographers.

Also listed are purchases of paper and ink by job printers; purchases of handgrips and other personal property by doctors; purchases of drugs and medicines by druggists for use in filling prescriptions; and purchases in servicing property for users, such as painting, auto waxing, and shoe shining.

Monthly reports and payments to the state are to be made by the last day of each calendar month following the month in which liability is incurred.

Called Double Taxation
Saying, "We regret having to pass this," Dr. Lee commented at Friday's meeting that the state's application of the sales tax to itself and other cities is a

Ministers Attack Secrecy, Haste On Tavern Hours Law

Although most tavern owners are happy about the extension of closing hours in unincorporated areas of Madison county, the Quad-City Ministerial Association today voiced dissatisfaction with the secrecy it said accompanied the resolution's passage.

"Secretive, hurried-up legislation has a record of not being good for all the people but favoring a special few," the association's Social Education and Action committee said the Press-Record.

A spokesman for the state's attorney's office said it "stands to reason that the resolution was kept quiet purpose" and based his opinion on the fact that the supervisors "didn't ask this office to draw it up." He said the resolution extending tavern hours was drafted by an attorney outside the office although the normal procedure has been for the state's attorney's office to prepare resolutions for the board.

Group Plans Inquiry
"It is the intention of the committee to pursue this with a deep searching inquiry," the committee's statement continues. "To find the cause of such haste. The citizens of Madison county have a right to a full and open inquiry into the whole matter."

The committee, which represents about 20 different churches in the Quad-Cities with a combined membership of 12,000, met in special session Friday afternoon to discuss the extension of tavern hours to 2:30 a.m. during the week and until 3:30 on Sunday mornings.

The committee expressed "surprise and deep concern" when it learned of the board's action, pointing out that representatives would have appeared at the meeting with a statement of opposition if announcement of the resolution's impending passage had been made.

Deputy County Clerk Evelyn Howles said her office has neither had been supplied with a copy of the resolution in advance nor was it included on the agenda received for the meeting.

"I'm sure all members of the board of supervisors were aware of the resolution though, because of the prolonged discussion they had about the issue at their meeting last month," she said.

Prompted By Penalty Law
Numerous township supervisors, Harry Briggs, who presented the resolution, told the Press-Record that he made up his mind on the matter last month when the board put "teeth" into the 23-year-old county liquor ordinance.

He said he had voted for the teeth—penalties for violation of closing hours—with the stipulation that the resolution be presented and passed last week.

8 Persons Hurt
In 4 of 16 Area
Traffic Accidents

Injuries were suffered by eight persons in four of 14 traffic accidents occurring in and near the Quad-Cities area over the weekend, according to reports available from local, county and state authorities.

Henry Hawthorn, 27, of 2023 Fourth street, East Madison, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:18 p.m. Saturday for treatment of injuries suffered when the left rear of his eastbound pickup truck collided with the right front of a southbound auto at Third street and McCambridge avenue.

Hawthorn was released after a skull x-ray and treatment of left shoulder abrasions. State Trooper Edward R. Allen, 27, of 2424 Ohio street, driver of an unmarked state police car, was not injured.

Four Hurt On Broadway
Four injuries resulted from a collision of two eastbound autos in the 400 block of Broadway, Venice, at 10 p.m. Friday.

Those admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation and treatment after being rushed by ambulance were Orange Davis, 17, and her sister, Debra, 13, both of 117 Garner road. The older girl is in fair condition today, and Debra Davis is in good condition.

The two and Anna Davis Jr., four, also of 117 Garner, were riding in the auto of Ames Davis when it was struck by William W. Wolf, 48, of 4354 Name street, who was driving on the forelead and Ames Davis was not injured.

Bank In Madison At New Location

Opening on schedule in a new building this morning, the First National Bank in Madison is now located at 600 Madison avenue. Its final day at 401 Madison avenue was Friday, and the weekend was devoted to moving of equipment.

A large number of depositors and visitors inspected the new facilities in person this morning. The 4x125-foot steel and masonry structure has an acoustic tile ceiling, walnut paneling and trim, plastic wall surfaces, marble flooring and modern furnishings and equipment. The building is fully air-conditioned and has indirect lighting, and is adjacent to a new parking lot.

There are seven teller locations and a drive-up window with provision for a second drive-up window in the future. A second floor for the use of the structure, and the bank is designed so that the lobby can be expanded.

There are large work, meeting and storage areas, increased space in the vault and safety deposit boxes, three private booths for opening the boxes, kitchen facilities for employees and an expanded telephone network.

Consider Auto Fee Boost
He added that the committee also discussed the possibility of securing additional revenue new through increasing the city license fee from the present $3 to $5 and setting license fees for building contractors and service firms.

"These will be proposed to the council for action," the chairman added.

The $23.40 overall wage boost would average $15 a month for city employees, who are seeking a two-year agreement with $36 (Continued on Page 13, Col. 6)

Army Study Cited By Kerner Apparently Will Not Aid Sewer Project

City officials and the Citizens' Sewer and Drainage Committee are studying Granite City's drainage-sewage-pollution program to determine whether or not it can be salvaged despite veto action on Friday by Gov. Kerner.

The veto of levee district bonding provision which might have provided $10 million for the $16 million program has many retarded local drainage progress. G. W. Hoelscher, committee chairman, reports. The Press-Record learned today that U. S. Army Corps of Engineers studies cited by the governor will be of no direct help for sewer construction.

Mayor Leonard R. Davis hospitalized until Saturday, told the Press-Record during the week-end that "I don't understand it" and "I don't like it." Commenting that Granite City is entitled to substantial drainage aid from the East Side Levee and Sanitary district, he said he will comment in more detail after studying the veto message.

Says Not Contradictory
Hoelscher emphasized that the levee district bills sent to Gov. Kerner by overwhelming action of the state legislature were not contradictory, as suggested by the veto statement. Extension of bonding power from 2 1/2% to 4 1/2% of assessed value, a referendum would have been held Dec. 31, 1962, with referendums required after Jan. 1, 1963. The 1963 referendum requirement was signed into law Friday.

"We are not asking for anything that hasn't been done in East St. Louis, and this was necessary to have sufficient funds for the drainage program. A group went up to explain the plan and was told that he would go along with it if we went to all the trouble of seeking passage. The veto wrecks the whole program or retards it for at least several years," Hoelscher said.

In his message Friday, the governor said, "The U. S. Corps of Engineers has been concerned with the water and flood control problems in this area for some time and is presently engaged in an intensive study of the entire area from Alton to a point just east of St. Louis."

"The corps anticipates that its studies will be completed within a year and that the multi-phase program which will result will benefit the entire area and should alleviate the water problems of all the communities in the area."

No Sewer Aid By Engineers
The Press-Record was told today by officials at the St. Louis District Engineers' office that the studies within the areas of three levee districts and drainage pumping stations or gravity outfalls into the Mississippi River, Sewerage works will be referred to in the report to the governor.

Lake Park Group Still Seeks Kerner Meeting

Commissioners of the Horseshoe Lake state park citizen group are still hopeful Gov. Kerner will take steps to provide funds for the Madison-St. Clair county development.

Henry D. Karandjoff, local banker and chairman of the park commission, said today the commissioners are continuing efforts to arrange a conference with the governor to determine what direct action the governor can take.

The governor, during a press conference last Thursday, said he would not sign the lake park bill because of a lack of funds. His announcement did not mention a direct veto, but paved the way, if the bill goes unsigned, for its approval, according to indication of the state constitution. Kerner also could send the bill to the secretary of state, having his objections, which could kill the legislation.

"We are still hopeful of arranging a meeting with the governor, Karandjoff said.

3 Volunteer As Club Told of Eye Bank Program

Three members of the Daybreak Optimist club volunteered at Saturday's meeting at the YMCA to donate their eyes at death to a bank which donates and preserves eye tissue, in contrast to the usual practice of discarding of fresh tissue only.

Chester G. Sadowski explained the program, which is co-sponsored by the Missouri Lions Club and the St. Louis Society for the Blind Eye Bank.

He said eye tissue is removed by a volunteer physician soon after the death of the donor, and dispatched to the University of Missouri by Missouri state police.

Within 72 hours the eye tissue is dissected, the cornea removed with a special cutter and dehydrated. Cornea and cutter are preserved together, and the same cutter is used during the corneal transplant, assuring a perfect fit.

Branch Eye Bank
Sadowski said the Lemay Lions Club, of which he is a member, has established a branch eye bank at Alexian Brothers Hospital in St. Louis, one of a system of such banks in many cities.

Vitreous fluid is dehydrated to a sterile crystalline powder, Sadowski explained, which is available for use as make-up fluid for accident victims at Alexian Brothers Hospital.

Because vitreous fluid cannot be replaced by the cornea, prompt replacement with fluid from the eye bank often aids in preventing the sight of accident victims, he said.

Appealing to members of the Daybreak Optimists to will their eyes, Sadowski said that since founding of the branch eye bank in St. Louis in January 1960, about 30 persons ranging from nine months to 83 years have had partial or complete restoration of sight there.

He cited a recent case of a 70-year-old man who had nearly perfect vision after the operation. But, in many cases, restored vision is poor and provides only self-sufficiency, he said.

However, the operation using dehydrated eye tissue is regarded as being 80% successful, Sadowski pointed out. In cases where sight is not restored, recent transplants often can be made.

An employee of American Steel Foundries here, Sadowski was introduced by Program Chairman Sigmund Fredericks. Additional information on the eye bank program may be obtained from members of the Daybreak Optimists.

Director Paul Rutledge announced that Bob Butler will be next month's program chairman. Guest speaker, James Miller of Hammond, Ind., was introduced.

GC Demos Endorse Full-Time Engineer

Members of the executive board of the Granite City Democratic Club endorsed the establishment of a city engineering department for the city during a meeting held Thursday, attended by members Horace L. Yocco, William Blumh, Andrew Rapoff, Tony Petrillo, Richard Allen, Robert McCormick and William "Butch" Portell.

The board pointed out the removal of a $7000 salary item from the city budget last week, certain budget last week, certainly appeared to be a false economy, since the much needed master sewer plan for Granite City would be virtually impossible to make effective without a full-time city engineer and a city engineering department to properly plan and administer such a plan.

"It is understood that the city engineering department, in addition to having a full-time engineer, would result in the establishment of proper records of all improvements and maintenance and would also result in the establishment of a proper program for the most efficient capital improvements and for efficient and economic maintenance of city property and equipment," the board members stated.

"It was felt by the executive board that the maintenance of sewers of Granite City in the future would prevent costly cave-ins such as recently occurred. This maintenance could be accomplished through a city engineering department."

"Much greater economy could be had in the proper planning of work to be done by the various departments by the establishment of a city engineering department."

"The city has spent $20,000 for a master plan for the future of Granite City. This plan was needed and is of great value to the city, but it was the feeling of the executive board that with a full-time city engineer and a city engineering department, the plan could not be utilized to its greatest extent. A full-time city engineer could give very valuable advice as to zoning maintenance and improvements to the planning Commission and his help would be valuable also to the zoning board of appeals."

"The executive board of the Granite City Democratic Club urges all civic-minded citizens to contact their aldermen to see that a city engineering department with a full-time engineer is established for Granite City."

Bi-State Agency Elevator Site Lease Approved

A 41-year lease on 77 acres of Granite City canal harbor front property by the Bi-State Development Agency has been approved by the U.S. Department of Army, leaving only Corps of Engineers approval of agreements between Bi-State and a Chicago firm pending before construction of a 4,200,000-bushel grain elevator there.

Col. R. E. Snyder Jr., Bi-State executive director, said final drafts of agreements between his organization and the Illinois Grain Corp. will be sent to the District Engineer this week. As soon as approval is granted, he said, Bi-State will issue revenue bonds and let contracts for construction of the $5,350,000 water front facility.

The Bi-State Agency and the Chicago grain firm signed contracts in December, approving plans which began 10 years ago. Disagreement between Bi-State and the Corps of Engineers arose over lease arrangements, however, and the project was stalled. The original lease was for 37 acres, 40 less than the new one.

Col. Snyder emphasized that the lease now has been approved and signed, and that no further negotiations are necessary between Bi-State and Washington. The rental price was not revealed, but he said it amounts to several thousand dollars a year.

Under the lease, the District Engineer must approve the use made of the property. The Bi-State spokesman said he sees no reason to expect disapproval of his group's contracts with the Illinois Grain Corp.

The contracts call for the agency to finance construction of the huge elevator through sale of revenue bonds to be paid from its future operation. The grain company will operate it.

The elevator is to be built between the Bi-State wharf and terminal on the Chain of Rocks Canal and the planned $20 to $30 million port planned by the Tri-Cities Regional Port Authority.

Gov. Kerner's Veto Of Drainage Bills Is Massive Setback For Granite City

Gov. Otto Kerner pulled the rug out from under Granite City's combined drainage-sewerage pollution program Friday when he vetoed bills that would have permitted the East Side Levee and Sanitary District to participate to the extent of $10 million in the project.

He not only pulled the rug out from under this community's progress, but he also misled the Citizens Sewer and Drainage Committee, as well as legislators from this district, when he told them a couple of months ago that he would "put no road-block in the path of this legislation." He even went so far as to say he would sign the bills and also agreed to use his influence in getting the legislation through both Houses, though he expressed some doubt as to the extent of that influence.

Gov. Kerner's veto came in the face of the bills' overwhelming 142-4 passage in the House and unanimous passage in the Senate. His reversal of this legislative approval and also his own position is a serious, if not fatal, setback to the estimated $16 million solution to this city's drainage-sewerage pollution problem. Not only are current needs dangerously jeopardized, but the future of Granite City as well.

The two bills would have enabled Granite City, in large measure, to obtain their share of the millions of dollars in taxes paid into the levee district over the years, millions which had been spent for improvements in the East St. Louis area. Further, the $10 million proposal for Granite City was unanimously endorsed by the five East Side Levee and Sanitary District commissioners who recognized the validity of this inequity.

In his veto message, Gov. Kerner mentions a drainage study that is being made by the U. S. Corps of Engineers which he seems to think can take the place of the city's project. We doubt that the engineers will do anything about internal city drainage; we can only conclude that he has been misinformed.

An early solution to Granite City's drainage predicament, for which there had been such high hopes until Friday, is now all but hopeless. Gov. Kerner's unexpected veto puts a new burden—and responsibility—on city officials, the citizens' committee, and the levee district.

Perhaps a piecemeal approach, looking forward to a more realistic and understanding governor in the 1963 General Assembly session, can salvage at least something from the past two years of hard work and expense.

Meanwhile, the Illinois Sanitary Board's recent order prohibiting the extension of the Granite City sewer system for new building still stands and prevents any further expansion of this dynamic, growing community.

Luckily for the human race, adults, who sometimes grow cynical, are replaced by youngsters with enthusiasm, hope and faith.

More Arrests On Highways May Improve Traffic Safety

Plans for a crackdown on highway traffic law violations are justified by the rising Illinois death toll, currently about 90 ahead of the same period in 1960. Troopers have been instructed to issue tickets instead of warnings and to require greater adherence to speed limits and other regulations.

A departmental directive calls for increased attention by officers to vehicles' speed, lane usage, passing and general control. Roads and highways should be safer as a result, for these factors are the major reasons why traffic accidents and casualties occur.

Nations, like individuals, must not value life so highly as to value liberty not at all.

Two Youngsters Hurt In Bicycle Accidents

Bicycle accidents resulted in cuts requiring emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth hospital for two Granite City youngsters Thursday.

Eddie Lane, 11, of 2213 Nevada avenue, required 15 stitches to close a cut on his right leg received when his bicycle overturned about 6 p.m. He was released after treatment.

Leonard Buzick, 12, of 2569 Circle drive, was cut on the left foot about 2 p.m. when the bicycle he was riding collided with a rusty barrel. He was released after receiving five stitches to close the wound.

Three-year-old Audrey Oliver was hurt when she fell from a porch glider at her home at 2623 North street about 9 p.m. X-rays of her left elbow and forearm showed no broken bones, and she was released.

Sharon King, 27, of 1913 St. Clair avenue, was taken to the hospital at 7:30 p.m. after apparently taking a large amount of aspirin according to police. She received a stomach lavage and was released.

Eichmann Trial A Valuable Reminder Of War's Inhumanity

The long Eichmann trial in Israel has been valuable both as the prosecution of one of the worst war criminals and for its reminder to the world that acts against humanity itself are not justified by war. It is expected to have, in particular, that mass extermination—violating all rules of war or peace—cannot be condoned or left unpunished, regardless of whether the individual is initiating or merely following orders.

While occurring 16 years after the close of world war II, the trial and its detailed testimony and evidence are familiarizing a new generation with the horror and savagery of the conflict, the reasons why it was fought and the sorrow and inhumanity resulting from warfare. It also is proving informative to those who already have memories of the war. Some of the major stories could not be fully evaluated as they were occurring, and there is a natural tendency at the end of the fighting to try to forget as rapidly as possible.

A new concept of direct punishment for military crimes was established in the 1940s, and the current trial is in this tradition. Certainly the war criminals must be punished, but this question arises: How can you adequately punish one man who was closely involved with the murder of six million people? The remainder of the punishment will be, not in this world, but in the hereafter.

Later Tavern Closing Hours In County Deal Blow To Uniformity

Later closing hours for taverns in unincorporated areas of Madison county, approved in a surprise 37-4 vote by the county board of supervisors, may work out satisfactorily—but we are not optimistic about its departure from what has been a growing uniformity in closing time.

Not a single supervisor from the three local townships opposed the longer hours, despite evidence that existing closing hours in the area, and across the river, have helped bring a climate of law and order, attractive to new families and new employees. Two of the three local cities have a law, identical to that in effect in the county until now.

Just as a major advantage of daylight saving time is its uniformity, there are persuasive arguments for a uniform tavern closing hour in both the cities and unincorporated sections of this area and Missouri. Allowing later hours than elsewhere invites those who have been drinking already to continue doing so locally long into the night. The unruly aspects and greater burden on police and deputies are obvious.

Extension of closing hours in the county should be discarded at once if it begins to bring a return to the type of "good old days" that sometimes were not so good, Madison county's deserved reputation as a law-abiding community, rather than an all-night playground for revelers unwanted by other areas, must be maintained.

THE PASTOR SPEAKS

By Rev. Commodore Grove
Pastor, Dewey Avenue
Methodist Church

We are living in an age of fierce turmoil and harrowing doubts. We know not what a day will bring forth. It is a time when many have so scheduled the hours of each day that they hear them say, "I just don't have time for anything. I'm so busy."

The real truth of the matter is that we have more time than we ever had, but we don't know how to use it to the best advantage of our spiritual and physical needs.

The result is that we have built up what one well known commercial calls, "tension, tension, tension." Is there an answer to man's basic need and if there is where can it be found? Is there someone or something that can meet the problems of human nature, its fears, and its tensions?

I'm convinced that the answer can be found in One Person, and in one place, namely God and His Word that has been handed down to us.

We have tried many things, and they have failed why not give God a real chance. He has promised to meet our every need.

Reds Overpower Blues In 24th Annual All-Star Classic, 7-1

Rosenkranz's 3-Run Homer Is Big Blow

Power and balanced pitching helped the Red division break a three-year drought in the 24th annual Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League all-star game Sunday afternoon at Troy, 7-1.

Aided by the shutout hurling of Bill Johnson, Cliff Eckels and Sacred Heart's John Rains, the team moved for in front with a three-run fourth-inning home run by Wally Rosenkranz of Collinsville's Boosters.

The Red already had taken a 2-0 lead in the third on some during base stealing.

Roy Clayton, pinch-hitting for Red starter Bob Vetter, walked and swiped second. With one out, he scored on Larry McCaskey's double.

Double steal

McCaskey moved to third on a wild pitch by the Blues' starting pitcher, Jack Buerste of Maple Grove, and then scored on Ray Jones. Bob Price of the Blues, running for Jones, and McCaskey, engineered a double steal, with McCaskey scoring and Price reaching second.

Ollie Miller's Blue division troops scored their only run in the first off Vetter. Rich Ryan of McCaskey's Blues banged out a double and stole home on a follow-up single by teammate Bill Mibele.

That was all the Blues' offense made, as the three pitchers who followed Vetter to the mound for the Red squad of Glen Gubler limited their opponents to just two hits.

The Reds continued to dent the plate in the fourth. Sacred Heart's Howard Eibertson opened the frame with a double, and a single and stolen base by Harold Scheibel of Collinsville put runners at second and third. Rosenkranz then made it 5-1 with his home run, and that was all for the Blues' second hurler of the afternoon, Don Florin of Carpenter, who had replaced Buerste when the inning began.

Don Krasochevich of White City relieved Florin and got the Reds out before they could inflict further damage in the fourth. He worked a scoreless fifth and sixth and then left for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

He struck out four of the six batters he faced, but the heroics unfortunately were a little late for Blue division fans among the large crowd on hand to watch the once-a-season classic.

The Hearts' John Rains, who took over on the hill for the Reds in the seventh, also had easy sledding. He worked three hitless innings in which he struck out three and did not allow a ball to be hit out of the infield.

42 Players Appear

Manager John Rains, who used 21 players in the contest, saw the Reds win for the first time in the past four years, and for the second time in eight years.

In pre-game ceremonies, Andy Angelot, a regular with Mercer last season who is inactive with a sore arm this summer, received the Inter-City League and Carl Wallen Memorial batting trophies for his league-leading .460 average for 1960.

Teams in the 10-club loop also presented plaques to League President Vernon Lucas of Collinsville and Secretary Henry Huser of Troy in recognition of their long service to the league in those positions.

Washington Tavern Wins; Remainder Of Loop Washed Out

Washington Tavern topped Home of the Blues 14-3 yesterday morning in the only Sunday Tavern Softball league contest which got into the record books.

With the exception of Lee Park, all other diamonds in the league were too wet for play and four games were postponed. Tom McGee was the winning pitcher for Washington Tavern, while Jim Lance took the loss.

The victory moved Washington into fifth place over Idlewild, Millie & Mickey's Sunday's winners announced that the club will be sponsored for the remainder of the season by Jolly Mill.

Win At Centralia 4 From GC Advance To State Finals Of Jaycees' Junior Sports Jamboree

Four youngsters will represent the Granite City Jaycees next month in the state finals of the Illinois Jaycees Junior Sports Jamboree at Champaign. They earned the right to compete in the Aug. 18-19 finals by capturing first place in track, field and swimming events Saturday at the Jaycees' regional sports jamboree in Centralia.

Tops in their divisions were Carolyn Starling, first in the intermediate girls' basketball throw; Jim Stuart, winner of the 25-yard dash in the midwest boys' division; Terry Labovoy, first in the intermediate girls' 50-yard dash; and Kelly Hogan, first in the 50-yard free style swimming event.

Breakfast Record

Hogan broke the existing Jaycees state record in his event, winning the distance in 29.5 seconds to eclipse the old mark of 30.2 set in 1960 by Brad Lindfield of Rockford.

Miss Starling already holds the unofficial state record in the baseball throw, having surpassed the old mark of 204 feet by 20 feet in 1960.

Granite City had the largest number of youngsters in the jamboree, with 22 competitors in the regional events, which also was the best.

Only winners in the regionals are qualified to go on to Champaign, but other local performers also turned in fine efforts.

A second place in the intermediate girls' 440-yard dash was taken by Gerry Hampton.

Four Home Runs Help Kelly's Bomb Marvyle, 20-7

John Maasung plied his seven Girls' Twilight Softball league victory of the season Thursday night at Lee Park as the Justin Kelly Rug Co. squad bombed Marvyle 20-7.

Her batterymate, Judy Schaefer, blasted out two home runs and Mary Alice Kelly and Rosemary Archangel each hit for the circuit once as Kelly's picked up the 14th league victory this season.

P. E. "Pop" Meyer's club thus kept the pressure on first-place Collinsville. The Rockettes are 15-2 in league play while Kelly's are 14-3. The two clubs will meet in a showdown battle at Lee Park Thursday night.

The previous evening, Kelly's will play at Waterloo. Both the Wednesday and Thursday games begin at 8 o'clock.

Last Friday night, the Venice club was rained out of an exhibition game with Murphy's at Canandaigua Park in St. Louis.

Recreation Program 'Play Day' Held At Wilson Park Friday

Youngsters from each of the seven Granite City park district summer recreation program playground locations gathered at Wilson Park Friday for a "play day."

Activities began at 9:30 a.m. with a flag-raising ceremony at the Wilson Park softball diamond, followed by playground softball playoff championship games. In the Midget division the squad from Marshall school ousted by Wilson school 4-3, while the same school was victorious by the same score over Lincoln Place community center in the Junior age playoffs.

Organized games were played before the youngsters took a noon hour lunch break and then scrambled for candy spilled from a "pinata."

A Mexican goodie bag suspended from a convenient tree and broken open with a long stick.

Afternoon movies, group singing and a dip in the Wilson Park swimming pool concluded the day's activities. The summer recreation program will continue at the separate playgrounds for another two weeks.

Memorial Fountain Nearing Completion

Granite City's war memorial fountain, under construction at Memorial Park, Niedringhaus and Madison avenues, is scheduled for completion the week of Aug. 20, it was learned today from Architect Henry Gabriel and Contractor G. H. Sternberg. Changes in the location of electrical conduits, now to be placed inside the concrete form, was given as a reason for the delay.

Plumbing fixtures and the mechanism for the automatic and illuminated fountain are scheduled for delivery this week, and the contractor has forms set for pouring concrete to form the reflection pool, also scheduled for this week.

Construction of the fountain is being carried out with funds raised several years ago by Granite City's War Memorial Committee, headed by W. Milton Worthen.

Target Date Nov. 1 For Mitchell Project

Construction of the Mitchell area railroad viaduct and highway project is progressing on schedule, with Nov. 1 set as the target date for completion of this phase, Charles Kaiser, resident engineer, told the Press-Record today.

When completed, the two separate overpasses, side by side, will connect with a network of interchanges leading from existing highways and will span a series of railroad tracks.

Each overpass will carry traffic on 24-foot wide east and westbound lanes for the new Interstate Route 270. When this project is finished, work will begin on a two-and-a-half mile stretch of separated four-lane highway to the Chain of Rocks canal bridge to the west.

Concrete is being poured this week for the decking on the new viaducts, and with the exception of painting structural steel, work has been completed on the north overpass.

Work on the south bridge is to be completed by Aug. 15, Kaiser said. Approaches to the west end of the viaducts also are being poured with work on the two 24-foot wide east and westbound lanes for the new Interstate Route 270. State Motor Vehicle Registration Up $9,400

Charles Carpenter, secretary of state, announced this week at Springfield that motor vehicle registration for the first half of the year showed an increase of $9,400 over the same period of a year ago and totaled 3,208,071.

Passenger cars were up from 3,130,731 to 3,208,118; trucks and buses up from 443,273 to 446,315; trailers and semi-trailers up from 135,944 to 145,455; dealers licenses up from $453 to $524 and motorcycles down from 20,230 to 19,439.

Enthusi? Surprised? Excited? Sure, wouldn't you be? State Farm has added new benefits for its careful-driving license holders. State Farm policyholders are entitled because these new benefits are in effect right now. They're only mildly surprised, however.

State Farm has added new benefits before without increasing rates. But, they're really excited, and you will be, too, about the benefits added to State Farm's coverage. Two new Safeguards against Cancellation and Surcharge give written protection against cancellation due to accidents plus the assurance that State Farm's low rates will stay low (no surcharges as a penalty for accidents or traffic violations). And, there are five more additional benefits. Call me today or stop in for more information.

that's THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION IN COOPERATION WITH THIS NEWSPAPER

DO ALL CONTRACTS HAVE TO BE IN WRITING?

How many times have you heard someone say that a contract is not binding unless it is in writing, or unless a witness was present when it was made? Do you think this statement is true?

In Illinois, there are very definite laws dealing with this subject. Contracts dealing with certain matters are not enforceable in court if they are not written and signed by the parties involved, while other contracts need not be written, and are enforceable in court although made orally. If you tell this to your friends, many of them will be surprised, and you can expect some of them to ask how an oral contract can be proven in court.

The answer is that the contracting parties take the same stand, and testify under oath that the contract was made and that its terms were of course, it sometimes happens that the parties testify to different versions, and then it is up to the jury to decide which of the parties is testifying accurately. In such a case, the testimony of a witness who is not connected with the case is very valuable.

Three Types of Contracts

Just what contracts are, and how they are expressed in writing in order to be legally enforceable in Illinois. The three most familiar types of contracts which must be written, are the purchase of land, any promise which takes over a year to perform and a purchase of personal property for an amount above $300. As to contracts for the sale of land, not only must there be a written and signed contract, but the conveyance of land, but there must be a written and signed contract of sale before an agreement to sell and can be enforced. So in every case of a transfer of land for value, two important written documents must be prepared and attended to. The requiring a written contract for the sale of land was first inspired by the desire to prevent fraud; today the law is even more desirable because of the number of problems created by zoning laws, recording statutes, and the frequency that property changes hands. These modern day conditions have made almost imperative the use of written contracts for land sales.

Contracts involving promises to do things beyond a period of one year from the time the contract was made are required to be in writing, because of the danger that when the time for performance finally arrives, the parties might not be able to remember what the oral promise was. Further, passage of time makes it more difficult to secure evidence that an oral contract was ever made.

Purchases Over $300

The primary reason for requiring contracts for the purchase of personal property for an amount above $300 to be in writing, is the determination by the Illinois legislature that a sum that great represents a major consequence to the average person. Contracts of such importance should be expressed in writing to avoid the uncertainties incident to spoken contracts.

Although these contracts cannot be enforced if they are not in writing, they are not void. The law has come to be that an oral contract, unenforceable if the parties begin to perform under it. Of course, if both parties fully perform their part of the agreement, the contract is fulfilled and cannot be set aside.

It is always prudent to put a contract in writing if it concerns the sale of insurance, or if its terms are complicated, even though the law does not require it to be written, because the opportunities for fraud, perjury, and dispute over terms are considerably lessened.

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

All Types of Meat Suitable

From the simple, delightful tradition of cooking a steak over a hot fire, tucking it inside a mustard coated bun and munching its toasted goodness has developed the wonderful art of outdoor cooking. Now whole roasts, chickens and turkeys are cooked on electric rotisseries; steaks and chops with saucy toppings are grilled over glowing coals.

No matter if you're cooking in the backyard, on camp-outs or for parties you are sure to find many recipes, menus, tips and ideas for these fun meals. Betty Crocker has a new Outdoor Cook book giving recipes for all types of Cook-outs. From this we are giving a recipe for Pork Steaks Perfect for Grilling.

Pork steaks yield more edible meat than any other pork cut (exceptation, boneless, cuts and center ham slice). Pork steaks are also inexpensive and ideal for the grill since they have

When Zoo Sandwiches and Strawberry Milk are on the children's lunch menu, even the dolls sit up and take notice. It's a real party lunch, the kind that children thoroughly enjoy; it's also the kind of lunch that provides the right nourishment and requires no trouble to prepare.

Milk for Children
Today's children are blessed with a variety of delicious, carefully handled, safe and readily accessible milk drinks. The 3 to 4 cups of milk needed by children up to the teens is no longer a problem. There are many ways to fashion plain milk into desserts and flavored drinks.

Flavored Drinks Made at Home
The secret of the Strawberry Milk, as pink as a rosebud and as luscious as a ripe strawberry, pictured above is quick strawberry flavored milk. This mix, a handy powder that can stand on your pantry shelf, dissolves at once in milk or other liquids to make all sorts of delicious drinks. Because it's fortified with vitamins and iron, it supplies extra nourishment as well as flavor, and it keeps strawberry flavor in season all summer long.

Small Fry Luncheon
For the party luncheon, along with strawberry milk, serve Zoo Sandwiches. Use your set of cookie cutters for the shapes. It's easy to remove the crusts from white or dark bread slices and cut them into these attractive shapes. Fill them with chicken salad, a cream cheese mixture or whatever your group of children and dolls like best. Bring on a plate of raw vegetables—carrot and celery sticks, green pepper strips and tomato sections—and your party lunch is complete.

If you want lunch to be even more of a party, use quick strawberry-flavored milk to make Strawberry Milk Punch. It's related to a strawberry soda, but made with lots of milk and ginger ale is used in place of the usual soda water. Make it in a punch bowl and, for a special decorative effect, top the scoops of ice cream with a sprinkling of the strawberry mix.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

AND NOW PUT IT IN THE OVEN. Although they are faking it now, Mrs. Mary Gene Knufinke (left) and Mrs. Joyce Walters, Granite City librarians, have read directions over the telephone while flustered housewives prepared meals for their families. The questions called in to the library run the gamut from boiling overalls to chemical formulas.

The Public Library: Answer To A Question

"How many cases has the Supreme Court handed since its inception?"
"How high is Africa's Victoria Falls?"
"Who really killed Cock Robin?"
Questions like these are asked and answered every day at the public library in Granite City. They come over the telephone, through the mail and from people coming in during their lunch hours.

High school and college students, ministers, lawyers, housewives, puzzle contestants, club women and grandstand managers in sports all find the library the quickest and simplest place to "look it up."

"It's a feeling we have. We feel we must answer every question brought to us," Librarian Mrs. Mary Gene Knufinke says. "It's a duty we've assumed."

The official name for the "looking it up" ladies at the library is reference work. Reference covers the range from finding out who hit a triple on May 16, 1948, in a game between the Yankees and the Tigers to describing the structure and function of the United Nations.

100 Questions A Day
The three librarians who handle most reference questions are Mrs. Knufinke, Mrs. Joyce Walters and Mrs. Hugo Seljaci. In a day they may find the answers to as many as one hundred questions.

The process usually starts with a question over the phone. The librarians will try to recall from memory in what area the particular subject is. Then they check the card catalogue for the books in the field.

If they have no luck there they will go to some of the standard reference works such as the "Readers' Guide," "The New York Times Index" or an encyclopedia.

If all else fails they will go to every book even vaguely concerned with the subject and begin reading. The ladies say the amount of reference work has increased greatly during the past few years.

The upland in education, the rebuilding of the two area Southern Illinois University residence centers and the buying of an air-conditioned building have increased the use of the library facilities, they said.

Most reference questions come from college and high school students. While school is in session more than 200 students of ten use the library at some time or another during a single day.

Home, Term Papers
Writing term papers, reports and theses, the students deluge the librarians with requests for information and for particular books or magazines. If possible, the library will get wanted books from either the state library in Springfield or the St. Louis library.

"If we think that more than one person in this area will be interested in a book, we'll buy it," Mrs. Knufinke explained.

Students have had an added concession recently when a study room—long since closed in the library's second floor. Furnished with comfortable, contemporary tables, chairs and lamps, the room can be used for conferences, reviewing for exams and other kinds of study not possible downstairs.

Mrs. Walters notes that sometimes the students who come for all the students she has put them in the downstairs kitchen over in the juvenile section and in the offices.

Aid For Women's Clubs
Closely following students are the leading users of the reference facilities are the women's literary clubs. For them, Mrs. Knufinke will go through current material available on a subject they want, and prepare a program. Often she will outline a whole year's reading.

She is currently preparing a study guide for the Bayview Reading Club on the topic of "troubleshooting" in the world. She has gone through current events bulletins for the past year to cover all parts of the globe.

Lovers call the library for help in preparing briefs. They need information such as the name of a county seat in Florida or the death rate in Vermont in 1850.

Teachers use the reference facilities for themselves and their students. One local teacher who is working on a master's degree at a state university asks for information on one weekend and then picks it up the next week end when she returns home.

With the increase in reference assignments on the high school level has come the problem of not enough books in the school library for all the students. Hence the teachers will call the public library in advance of the assignment and the librarians will set aside the needed books in preparation for the onrush of students.

On Saturdays, students and teachers alike try to catch up on current news, whose source is magazines. For the librarians, Saturday is "up and down day" because the magazines are kept in the basement.

Teachers use the library's record collection for classroom listening and for home assignments. With the records students can hear a professional company act out a play or hear a poet reading from his own work.

Service Comes First
Mrs. Walters says some librarians are devoted entirely to reference work. "The people come first; routine work can wait," she added.

Air-conditioning during the summer has added to the number of students who spend July and August days in the library. Even smaller children come in during the morning and spend most of the day poring over books on dinosaurs and space men.

The homework wave has sent elementary school children to the library for answers to science questions. Formerly, Mrs. Walters noticed, grade school pupils would be satisfied with the data given in an encyclopedia.

Now they go to original works. And teachers often require that at least two other books be used in addition to an encyclopedia.

While students and children bring the most questions, adults seek them in diversity and frustration to the library workers.

A classic question asked recently came from a harried housewife, who in frantic tones asked over the telephone, "There's a meat snake in our garage; what kind is it?"

Leg Of Lamb Instructions
Another housewife was having difficulty preparing leg of lamb for dinner. Her first thought was to call the library.

While Mrs. Walters read slowly from a cookbook over the phone, the housewife prepared the lamb. The woman promised to call Mrs. Walters back to tell her how the lamb came out. She hasn't yet, so Mrs. Walters has changed cookbooks.

The only group of questions the ladies suggest before coming from puzzle and crossword enthusiasts. To answer all the questions from puzzles, Mrs. Knufinke estimates about five more workers would be needed.

Last summer when a contest on Missouri towns was running high in reward, the library had constant line each day in front of the table holding books on Missouri. Persons would barge through the main desk and barely get out the word "Missouri" when Mrs. Knufinke would point to the stack and the line.

Even Emergency Calls
In emergencies, some persons call the library before phoning either physician or the police. A man recently called and asked, "I've just been bitten by a green and black insect with six legs. Is it dangerous?"

Ministers come in to find background for their sermons. A Press-Record story on Horseshoe Lake was partially written from materials obtained at the library. During the week of final examinations students flock to the library, and often forget to leave.

In May two college students waited each day for nearly a week for the library to open, went straight up to the study room and during the day came out only to go across the street to buy buns for lunch.

Secretaries, clerks and business men come in during their lunch hours to check something prior to a brown in the new magazine.

For high school students preparing for college, the ladies have prepared reading guides from lists of required reading at various universities. At present, a book stack is set up containing books on the University of Illinois required reading list.

As an indication of the emphasis on college training, Mrs. Walters notes that these tables are usually empty.

It is from this increase in desire to learn that the library workers find their greatest satisfaction. Yearly circulation is increasing about 15,000 volumes per year. One magazine is frequently used more than 400 times a month.

New Attitudes or Locations
After Mrs. Knufinke or Mrs. Walters has helped them locate material for an assignment, students will often return to show them the grade they received for the work. And through the virtual revolution in education, the students have assumed a new, more responsible attitude toward homework, they observe.

Whether to settle an argument over a batting average or to find the composition of rocket fuel, the need to increase the library's reference work will continue, Mrs. Knufinke states.

She looks to the time when the library will have two full-time employees working solely on reference. Total book holdings have increased 25 per cent in the past few years while the number of workers has remained the same.

As of the beginning of June the library housed 55,762 volumes, with a total yearly circulation of 208,822.

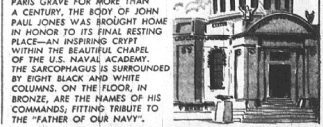

TRENCHING MACHINE excavates for foundation of addition which is being made to St. Elizabeth's parochial school at 2301 Pontoon road. Plans call for six rooms to be added to the present facilities. In background is building being used temporarily for worship services by St. Elizabeth congregation, which will become part of school when new church is erected.

THE HUGGER THE AIRPLANE THE SMALLER THE BOOM

Sonic Boom Termed A Sound of Security

Quite often Quad-Cityans hear what might be a sonic boom or just a little thunder; in either case the sound is the same. Recently Roger Paulett, owner of Paulett Marine Sales, 2309 Nameoki, cried, "I was bombed!" after an apparent sonic boom demolished a front plate glass window of his shop.

The mishap occurred on July 7 and he notified his insurance company the same day. The broken window was boarded up until July 11 when a new window was installed. No one was around the window when it shattered and no other damage was reported.

"Was it a sonic boom that broke his window? That question is still unanswered. Scott Air Force Base maintains an office to receive complaints of damage from sonic booms, falling gasoline tanks and other like mishaps.

"We felt a rush of air in the shop; it really reverberated," Paulett said when he found the window in pieces.

Inquires Made
People have written and called

Scott to inquire why they must make practice bomb runs over the Greater St. Louis area, causing sonic booms, when there is plenty of space elsewhere in the country, in sparsely populated areas. The Air Force admits the time is well-taken but there are two compelling factors, says an Air Force spokesman, for the B-58 "Hustler" aircraft to fly over this locality.

First, the geographical features of this area give off a radar return very similar to that of a high-priority target which may be assigned to the Strategic Air Command if and when hostilities begin. Secondly, the Army's four Nike sites in this area, charged with the defense of Greater St. Louis, can practice zeroing in their missiles by electronic means as the "intruder" makes its supersonic runs high above.

Thus, our weapons, both air and ground, must keep in a constant state of readiness under training conditions approximating most closely the conditions which will be encountered in actual warfare.

No Approval Yet By Ill. Firms On Transit Plan

No specific approval was given by Illinois bus firms meeting Thursday with C. M. Ross, vice-president of the Bi-State Development Agency, on proposed Bi-State acquisition of area transit systems. It was noted that appraisals leading to purchase offers have not yet been made.

Ross and Executive Director R. E. Smyser explained the proposal and assured the firms that unprofitable routes would be continued where there is no duplication of service. The cost will be offset by the bus routes that are profitable, he explained.

Willingness to cooperate as the study progresses was expressed by the firms. George W. Stearns, president, represented the Community Coach Co.

Charged With Improper Passing, Speeding

Thomas L. Hedrick, 23, of 4041 Mills avenue was charged with improper passing at 11:25 a.m. Sunday after the right front of his northbound car collided with the left rear of the northbound auto of Mary Watkins, 21, Wright City, Mo., on Benton street near Idaho street. He posted his driver's license as a bond. A speeding charge was listed against him at 7:40 p.m. Saturday in the 1500 block of Madison avenue, and he was held in custody until 1:40 p.m. yesterday, when he was released on $11 cash bail.

At a hearing today, Hedrick pleaded innocent to the improper passing charge and trial has been set for Aug. 7. He pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit and was fined $5 plus costs.

increase each year. The city's tentative offer is for one year since the tax income for next year is doubtful under a state Supreme Court ruling on tax limitations under the Hodge-Butler bill. This might cut the city's income next year by $350,000 to $400,000 for general purposes.

Last week's budget slashing session of the council went in reverse, with the budget placed in final reading at a greater figure than when first presented. This evening's meeting is expected to result in cuts as the July 31 deadline rapidly approaches.

Mayor To Preside

Mayor Davis is expected to preside tonight, having returned Saturday from St. Louis's hospital, St. Louis, where he was entered a week ago as an emergency patient slated for surgery for removal of a kidney stone. The operation was called off after the mayor already had been wheeled into the operating room last Tuesday.

The mayor told the Press-Record he is hopeful the budget can be adopted in time to meet the deadline with a July 31 publication date.

Thursday's wage session was held in the city hall conference room with Wicker and three members of the committee, Donald Partney, Steve Basarich and Edmund Bartolac, meeting with Jack Green of the Laborers' Union, Arthur Crouch of the Teamsters' Union, representing street and sanitation department workers; Everett Kelly and George Toller, representing the Police Department Union, and Earl Fronberger and Leonard Wilson, representing the Firefighters Union.

Ladies, Model-T's, Stock Cars Race At Speedway Tomorrow

Drivers in the ladies' race will be volunteers from the audience, a spokesman said.

If treated to a Orange-Raisin Sauce is all dressed up for a holiday dinner. Enjoy oranges, grapefruit and tangerines this time of year while they are abundant and low priced.
Citrus Is Plentiful
Citrus fruit is a holiday tradition, and it is plentiful in local markets this time of year. In spite of Florida's hurricane damage last summer, the crop is a good one in both size and quality. Heap a bowl with oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and nuts and use it as your table centerpiece. Besides good eating, you're buying good Vitamin C is needed every day by everyone and citrus fruits carry the highest price per pound.
Choose Ham Carefully
This holiday season will find an ample supply of hams in our market. The prices will vary a great deal according to size of ham. The smaller hams weighing 10 to 12 pounds will carry the highest price per pound.
Larger hams—14 to 16 pounds will be more reasonable. This size is the one that is popular for selling in portions. The Butt portion and Shank portion may appear to be value, but it is wise to consider total servings per pound of this form. The center slices will have been removed and the portion can vary greatly in amount of bone and water. A half of this size ham is a good investment.
Since most all hams are fully cooked, have slices cut at the market from a half ham and serve with a tart-sweet fruit sauce as given below.
Orange Raisin Sauce
One-half cup raisins
One and three-fourths cups orange juice
One tablespoon cornstarch
One-half cup dry mustard
One-third cup firmly packed brown sugar
One-half teaspoon salt
One-sixteenth teaspoon Tabasco
Two tablespoons cider vinegar
Two oranges, sectioned and drained
Add raisins to orange juice and simmer 10 minutes. Combine cornstarch, mustard, brown sugar, salt and Tabasco. Blend in vinegar. Stir into raisins and orange juice; cook three minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add orange sections. Serve with leftover or canned ham slices. Yield: 3 1/2 cups.

Drenovac At Hearing For Killers of Father

Sam Drenovac, son of Martin Drenovac, 69-year-old operator of the Twin Oaks service station who was beaten to death and robbed by two young killers June 8, returned home Friday from Sharpsburg, Kan., where he attended a sanity hearing held there for the two murderers of his father.

Drenovac said three doctors are to be named to examine the pair. AWOL soldiers George Ronald York 18, of Jacksonville, Fla., and James Douglas Latham, 19, of Mauriceville, Tex., who have admitted killing two persons in Madison county on June 8. They are scheduled to stand trial Sept. 18 at Sharon Springs, Kan., for the slaying of Otto Ziegler, 62, of Oakley, Kan. The pair was captured June 11 near Salt Lake City, Utah.

Drenovac, who plans to attend the trial, said he and all persons who entered the Kansas court-house for the sanity hearing were searched for weapons and cameras. And, they were not permitted to leave the court-house for 10 minutes after the pair was escorted out.

He said the youths chewed gum constantly throughout the hearing and appeared non-chalant.

NLRB Confirms Decision In Smith, Boilermaker Case

An order was handed down today by the five-member National Labor Relations Board at Washington, D. C., involving a 34-year-old case of 23 men who had filed complaints against A. O. Smith Corp. plant and International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Local Union 573. The board continued the 1960 findings of the trial examiner.

Nicholas R. Brink, local plant manager, said shortly before noon today a copy of the NLRB decision has not yet been received by the firm, and comment would be reserved until after a study of it has been made.

Withdraw Recognition

The 34-page report, which contains testimony given during hearings held in St. Louis, recommends that A. O. Smith Corp. "withdraw and withhold all recognition from International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Local 573 or any successor as the exclusive representative of the company's full-time employees for the purpose of collective bargaining unless and until the labor organizations shall have been certified by the NLRB as such exclusive representative in an appropriate unit."

The company is to offer William T. Randolph "immediate and full restoration to his former position as foreman with credit to him of all seniority to which he had been entitled before the Jan. 16, 1958, alteration of the company's labor contract," and jointly and severally with the labor organization make Randolph whole for any loss of earnings suffered by him as a result of his demotion from his position as foreman on Nov. 4, 1957.

Men To Be Reinstated

The company also is to offer reinstatement to the 22 other complainants to their former or substantially equivalent positions.

They were named as Albert Rowden, Harold R. Garner, Harry W. Nichols, Clyde Woolverton, James L. Hall, William G. Whitson, Ruben Luther, Calvin J. Cassell, Frederick J. Bailey, Anton Becker, Frank Becker, Clarence Arley, Paul E. Watts, Thomas L. Willmore, Albert W. Ennis, Conrad Bauer and William H. Hogan.

The Boilermakers Union is instructed to "cease and desist from causing the company to demote its foremen in order to restrain and coerce employees in the exercise of their rights under National Labor Relations Act."

MORE ABOUT Effect Of Veto

Walter Lawlor, chief of the Engineering Division of the district, said, "Hillside drainage and rainfall in the area will be considered, but we regard sewer improvements within a municipality as a local problem."

Marshall Gray, technical liaison officer, described as an "interior drainage study" prompted by the fact that leaves prevent natural drainage into rivers.

Veto Unexpected

The veto was unexpected, said the governor had pledged "no roadblock" to approval of the program, and Hoehs said after giving the bill the apparently arse in East St. Louis. The extension of bonding power was approved by the Illinois House 142 to 4 and by the Illinois Senate unanimously, with over 50 senators participating.

In his message, Gov. Kerner said "House Bill 1740 would set the authorized bonded indebtedness of the sanitary districts at 4 1/2% of assessed valuation and would be effective until Jan. 1, 1963, at which time it would drop to 2 1/2%."

The companion bill, House Bill 1741, would amend the general statutory limitation on bonded indebtedness of local governmental units, set at 2 1/2% of assessed valuation, to exempt sanitary districts organized under the 1907 act (East Side Levee and Sanitary district).

"The combined effect of the two is to allow districts created under the 1907 act to increase their tax rate to 4 1/2% without referendum, from the effective date of the act until Jan. 1, 1963."

"There is another bill pending."

Act, and is to cease and desist threatening employees with loss of employment or in any other manner interfering with, restraining or coercing employees of A. O. Smith Corp. in the exercise of the right to self-organization, to form labor organizations, to join or assist the Boilermakers, or any other labor organization, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection or to refrain from any or all such activities, except to the extent that such right may be affected by an agreement requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment as authorized in the National Labor Relations Act."
